Prosecutor Declares no One Will Be Spared.

Self-Confessed Female Thief Collapses in Court.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A portion of Chicago's business and club world is so deeply interested in the case of Evelyn Cain Romadke, the confessed woman burglar, that thousands of dollars have been contributed toward her defense by its population. One declared to be a fact by Assistant State's Attorney Roe, who said he would spare no one when the case comes to trial.

The prosecuting attorney stated that he would prove the woman was a burglar, and that she was a thief. He said that she was a thief, and that she was a burglar. He said that she was a thief, and that she was a burglar.

Today Mrs. Romadke waived examination before Judge Sadler at the Harrison-street court, which was crowded to the doors, and she was held to the grand jury on nine charges in bonds aggregating $18,000. Albert Jones, the negro accomplice of the woman, also waived examination when his case was called. He was held to the grand jury in bonds of $14,500 for five charges of burglary and two of receiving stolen property.

Mrs. Romadke was accompanied by her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cain, of Colorado, Wis. None of her husband's family was in the courtroom. The court asked for enough evidence from the prosecution to determine upon the bonds. An hour and fifteen minutes was consumed in giving this.

Mrs. Romadke was then taken from the room. As she was making her way to the door leading to the annex her strength gave away, and she was carried in a fainting condition to the women's quarters of the Police Station, where restoratives were applied.

BANDITS ATTEMPT MADE TO ROB TRAIN.

Two Bridges on Panhandle Road Are Fired.

Bandits Plan to Hold Up and Possibly Wreck Paymaster's Special, Carrying Thirty Thousand Dollars, but by Mistake They Stop Local Passenger, but Do Not Molest It.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An attempt to hold up and possibly wreck the Pan Handle Railroad pay train and rob it of $30,000 was frustrated last night near Reynolds, Ind.

Officers of the road are making every effort to cover up the story and they deny knowing anything about it.

The hold-up men set two bridges on fire near Reynolds, hoping to halt the pay train between them, but by some mistake the bandits stopped a local passenger train. They did not molest it. The train crew extinguished the flames on the burning bridge and the train proceeded.

None of the passengers knew the real cause of the brief delay, being told that the bridge had been set on fire by sparks.

WOMAN PROVES SPLENDID SHOT.

Wings Man Who Is Pursuing Her Husband.

Her Aim, With Revolver in Left Hand, Is True, and It Is Expected That Victim Will Die—Tragedy at Goldfield Supposed to Be Outcome of Ill Treatment.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In defending her husband from assault, Mrs. Ethel Larsen, wife of A. Larsen, today shot and mortally wounded Michael Kennedy.

Had blood had existed between the two men for some time, and Mrs. Larsen says that when she saw her husband being chased by Kennedy, who had a huge butcher knife, she grabbed a revolver and shot twice at her husband's assailant as he was pursuing Kennedy. One of the bullets went into Kennedy's neck and the other through his right arm. Kennedy will probably die. It is claimed Kennedy has been very abusive to Larsen and finally directed his attacks to Larsen's wife.

People who declare they know the inside of the affair state that Kennedy today snatched Mrs. Larsen's face, which fact contributed in no small degree to her growing anger. Most of the trouble is said to have resulted from the alleged treatment of Kennedy's small son by his niece during the absence of Mrs. Kennedy and the interference of Mrs. Larsen. Mrs. Larsen is left-handed, but she proved herself a sure shot.

WARRANT FOR HEARST.

Criminal Libel Is Charged by Brother of Lieutenant-Governor of New York.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A warrant was issued tonight by Justice Wyatt for the arrest of William R. Hearst on the charge of criminal libel.

Owing to the fact that the justice did not deem it advisable to endorse the warrant as being for special night service, no arrest was made tonight. The offense for which an offense cannot be served after sundown unless specially endorsed. Hearst was not-

ted, however, to surrender himself to-morrow morning.

The complainant is William Astor Chanler, a brother of Lieut. Gov. Chanler and of Sheriff Chanler of Dutchess county, and the charge is based principally upon an article in the Evening Journal of Monday in connection with an investigation by the Children's Society of the downfall of Elsie Vescey and several other little girls. Mr. Chanler's name also appeared in an article on the same subject in the American.

PROMISES TO KICK UP ROW IN HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Vitriolic Leader of Independent Labor Party Who Has Been Investigating State of Affairs in India Declares He Will Take Up Subject in Parliament.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) LONDON, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James Keir Hardie, whose movements and publications in India have created much adverse comment and a good deal of excitement in London, informs his Parliamentary friends that he is coming here to "kick up a big row in the House of Commons."

"India, in all its aspects, is systematically lied about in the British press," he says, "and the worst sort of injustice and tyranny is practiced in the name of loyalty. All the native races want is decent treatment under the British flag. For my own part, I intend to see whether the House of Commons cannot be aroused to a sense of the necessity of getting rid forever of the wilfully false medium through which the British public is permitted to see Indian affairs."

Mr. Hardie goes on to condemn the lack of responsibility to Parliament of the treaty-making power of England, and announces it as a fixed part of the Independent Labor party's programme to abolish the present practice.

KOREANS FEEL BETTER.

Visit of Crown Prince of Japan Results in Conciliatory Attitude Toward New Masters.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) TOKIO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an interview granted to the Seoul correspondent of King Shimbun, Resident-General Ito says that the result of the Japanese Crown Prince's visit to Korea was even better than had been expected. The Korean court was highly gratified, and the demonstration of the Prince's departure from Chemulpo made a permanent and salutary impression upon the government and the people.

There are signs that the native parties will adopt a more conciliatory attitude toward the Japanese.

CRUSHED UNDER HIS AUTO.

Young Adrian Gibson of Cleveland Is Killed and Five Companions Are Hurt.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Adrian Gibson, the 26-year-old son of a real estate dealer of Cleveland, was crushed to death early this morning at Michigan avenue and Eldredge place, under an automobile which his father had given him as a present.

Gibson was racing with another auto in the boulevard when his machine skidded, overturned and was wrecked. The driver was buried beneath the car and also when being taken to the Chicago Emergency Hospital, five companions of Gibson were slightly bruised.

For the last three weeks Gibson and other Toledo men have been touring the country in an automobile, which bore license tags of Illinois, Missouri and Indiana.

Discharged Telegraph Operator Requests That No Strike Be Called on His Account.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) DENVER, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The threatened railway telegraph operators' strike on the Denver and Rio Grande is off.

Strokes, the discharged Grand Junction man, will go into his home and requests that no strike occur on his account.

ANTI-TIP WAR IS ON.

All Clubs and Societies of Chicago Join in Fight Against Obnoxious Custom.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Led by the Illinois Athletic Club, all the clubs and societies of this city have begun a war of extermination upon the "tipping" evil.

At the big clubs the custom is strictly forbidden, but the waiters and other employees devised a scheme of raising checks to evade the rule. For this the Illinois club dismissed the first man found guilty and will dismiss the entire force if necessary to enforce the rule.

Waiters and other employees at the clubs are paid the highest wages, and during the holidays purses are made up for the employees. Last year these purses ran as high as $5000 in one club.

Members of the clubs have been warned that a violation of the tipping order will be followed by a sharp admonition, and a second offense will result in expulsion or suspension. Club officers agree that the tipping evil must be stamped out. They say it has no place in this country, where waiters are paid high wages.

Some of the larger hotels and restaurants are inclined to join with the clubs in the campaign.

MAD RACE TO CATCH BRIDE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) RENO (Nev.) Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All automobile speed records over the Harriman avenue, between Reno and Sparks, were broken yesterday, when a Reno chauffeur drove his car at the rate of fifty miles an hour to enable Carl Bickell to catch his train.

Bickell's bride was on the Overland Limited, which he missed at Reno. Reaching the railroad library, the motor stopped and Bickell, with mad efforts, tried to scale the fence.

A pedestrian showed him the gate at the end of the car line and he dashed through, getting directions to division headquarters as he ran.

Gallantry of Chicago Lawyer Saves the Day When Impromptu Little Comedy During Taking of Depositions Los Angeles Couple's Divorce Suit.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A woman's wit and her faith in the gallantry of Chicago men were the foundations for an impromptu comedy that received its initial and probably final presentation in a temporary courtroom in the Marquette building today. When the curtain fell, the honor of Chicago men was still unassailable, but the heroine was in tears and "the papers" so necessary to a real melodrama were in possession of their rightful owner.

The setting of the play was an office in the Marquette building, where J. Russell Ives was taking depositions of witnesses for Walter A. Mayer of Los Angeles and his wife, Annie Etta, who are tired of their domestic life and are seeking a divorce.

Mrs. Mayer appeared as the injured heroine, while the local color was furthered by a "drop red" blush on the cheeks of former Judge Vail and Attorney Nathan S. Smiser. A capable chorus of witnesses and attaches accompanied the play.

Mayer accused his wife of taking some papers pertaining to the case. "Where are they?" asked Commissioner Leonard.

"I have them, but don't you dare try to find out," returned Mrs. Mayer.

"I want my papers," reiterated Mayer. "Get them for me."

There was a consultation of attorneys. Mayer said, and a lawyer declared that she would have to return the papers.

"Well, if I have to, all right," returned the woman, "but you will have to turn the other way." Then, while the company looked dumbly at the floor, Mayer and his wife, a dive into a stocking and Mrs. Mayer threw the "papers," slightly crumpled, but intact, upon the floor.

"There," Mayer said, and began to cry. Mrs. Mayer is said to be a wealthy manufacturer of Los Angeles and is stopping at the Hotel and Henry, who is at the Leasing with friends.

SLAYER WILTS PITIFULLY.

Man on Trial for Triple Murder Is Lugged into Court and Dumped into a Chair.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) GOSHEN (N. Y.) Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles Henry Rogers, charged with murdering Frederick Olney, Willis Olney and Alice Ingerick, was placed on trial here today.

The best village information had it that the night-owls, who trooped into town by trolley, train and team, were to behold an audacious, indifferent slayer, to whom slaying was a joy and its penalties a matter of the least concern.

Instead, the crowd saw something that scarcely seemed to be human, at all. It was rather like six feet of darning, and as two burly deputies lugged it up stairs from its prison cell and dumped it into a thick oak chair, it looked like a man with a stare that was as cunning as a fox's. Then it let its chin drop on its chest and shook the solid chair under it with its trembling.

NO FEAR OF PLAGUE.

Hospital Service Official Expresses Belief That Disease at Seattle Will Not Spread.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Received at the Public Health and Marine Hospital from Dr. White, the medical officer of that service at Seattle, indicate that a fully developed case of bubonic plague, and which proved fatal, has made its appearance in the Chinese quarter of that city.

It has not been ascertained whence the infection came. Assistant Surgeon-General Glennan of the service, said tonight that no fears are entertained as to the spread of the disease.

LIGHT ON MONEY DEALS.

Loans Made by Various Insurance Companies of New York to Be Investigated.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) ALBANY (N. Y.) Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just how much money E. H. Harriman has borrowed from the Mutual Life Insurance Company, and the inner details of the transaction, will be revealed soon.

Light is also to be thrown on other financial dealings by insurance corporations, and Otto Kelsey, who successfully resisted Gov. Hughes' attempts to have the Senate remove him on the grounds of incompetency, is to be compelled to explain all the workings of his department under oath.

AGED MEXICAN DEAD.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) STOCKDALE (Tex.) Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After watching the Lone Star rise from obscurity and blaze brightly among the constellations that mark the United States, Peliciana Garza, a Mexican, aged 117 years, is dead, after 100 years' residence in this section. He was with Santa Ana in the war of Texas independence, assisted in the attack on the historic Alamo at San Antonio, and also bore arms in the Mexican War with the United States.

KICKED OUT OF HOME.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After a legal fight which lasted twenty-nine years, David Van Etian was moved bodily from his residence by the sheriff and his deputies. "Bubbles" made his "first down" in the affections of Miss Good in the final game of 1907, when Michigan and Chicago were battling for the supremacy of the West.

BROKEN IN MORE TROUBLE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James R. Mereshon, prominent broker and clubman, was sued for divorce today by his wife, Florence M. Mereshon. About a week ago Mereshon got into trouble with Miss Aetia Brooker, his wife's housemaid, when he returned to Chicago from a trip to St. Louis. The maid declared to the police that he dragged her and mistreated her. When Mereshon was brought to trial the girl, taking the witness stand, said that Mereshon had forced her to remain in his room until morning, after they had dined together. Mereshon admitted that he had forced her to remain in his room, but denied the rest of the story. Mrs. Mereshon was in St. Louis at the time.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The directors of the defunct Milwaukee Avenue State Bank may be placed on trial in Judge Dupuy's court tomorrow, with Paul O. Stensland, former assistant cashier, who will be charged with embezzlement.

EPIGRAMS HEARD AT TRUST CONFERENCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Epigrams heard at trust conference:

By Nicholas Murray Butler: "The character of a corporation does not depend upon its size, but upon the principles and policies which actuate its management."

"Corporations themselves have no moral qualities; it is corporate officers and managers who are good or bad, honest or dishonest, as the case may be."

By Wade H. Ellis, Attorney-General of Ohio: "Here I am, coming from one association to another association, to discuss the evils of associating."

"Honest corporation is needed to right wrongs, but honest corporation is not one of the wrongs to be righted."

"The trust question can't be fenced in by State lines."

"For New Jersey to give a corporation the right to buy stock of an Illinois corporation is like letting letters of marque and reprisal that the New Jersey capital may prey upon Illinois."

By W. P. Borland of Kansas City: "All railway managers seem to hold as their motto, 'After us the deluge.'"

"Anarchy has never come except when led by an aristocracy of special privileges."

low from properly regulated and supervised corporation.

The distinction between combinations which are reasonable and may be permitted and those which are unreasonable and must all be forbidden, is one which ought not to be surrendered or overlooked.

"It is a most important question, therefore, whether the time has not come when this act should be amended in order to relieve corporations, but the people, from limitations upon their business activity which this act imposes, although in reality they are not necessary in the public interest. It is not combination itself so much as it is unfair discrimination which should arouse our criticism and our opposition."

TRUST FIGHTER TALKS.

Wade H. Ellis, Attorney-General of Ohio, spoke on "The States and the Trusts."

A. K. Ankeny of Minneapolis spoke on the question of whether the power to regulate the rates rested with Congress or with the States.

R. H. Davidson, Attorney-General of Texas, spoke on "The New Organization of Attorneys-General."

Avery C. Moore of Idaho delivered a comprehensive address upon "The Division of Power Between Nation and State."

At the opening of the afternoon session, after the report of the Committee on Rules had been read and adopted, John W. Tomlinson of Birmingham, Ala., spoke on "Shall Federal Jurisdiction Be Extended in the Solution of the Trust Problem?"

Theodore Marburg of Baltimore delivered an address on "Governmental Regulation."

The convention went into general discussion of the suggestions made during the day by the various speakers.

About four hundred delegates, representing forty-two States and approximately eighty different organizations of a mercantile, civic and municipal character, are in attendance.

FUSILIER IS COMING.

Capt. Livonius Will Succeed Maj. Korner as German Military Attache in Washington.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] BERLIN, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to plans now contemplated, change in the personnel of the German diplomatic force in Washington will soon be made.

Major Korner, military attache, will be recalled to take a responsible position on the German general staff. His successor will be Capt. Livonius, member of the Fusilier guards, which is one of Germany's crack regiments.

Although the date of the change has not been fixed, Capt. Livonius is expected to leave for America in a month.

DEMANDS SQUARE DEAL.

Ex-President of Paper Trust Brings Suit Against Frank Rockefeller and Two of His Associates.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank Rockefeller, and two of his business associates, are being sued by O. C. Barber, ex-president of the United Paper Company, who with Mr. Rockefeller and Frank M. Peet and Charles E. Flint, underwrote $400,000 worth of bonds for the Ashland, Emery and Corundum company five years ago.

Mr. Barber alleged in his suit, filed before Judge Fitzgerald in the Supreme Court, that he was compelled to pay $271,000 on the bonds.

The purpose of his suit is to compel Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Peet and Mr. Flint to contribute their share toward the underwriters' responsibility.

CAR FAMINE SEVERE.

Roads Running East from Chicago Unable to Meet Demands of Shippers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The car shortage on the roads running east from Chicago appears to be felt more keenly as the season advances.

All the roads are embarrassed by their inability to meet the demands of shippers for cars. It is said there is particularly a dearth of refrigerator cars, though the shortage of box cars is felt almost as keenly. All the roads have received large accessions of their equipment since last year, but the leading returns show that the increase in tonnage has been considerably greater than that in equipment.

Traffic officials say they are constantly hearing of the approach of less prosperous times, but they can see none of it reflected in the movement of freight.

LONG BREAKS FORTH AGAIN.

WRITER SAYS BEAR HUNTING NEEDS NO COURAGE.

"Nature" Man Declares He Has Absolutely No Criticism to Make, But Nevertheless Attacks President's Methods of Killing Big Game.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] STAMFORD (CT), Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Rev. William J. Long, the nature writer, was asked this evening if he had anything to say about President Roosevelt's recent bear hunt, in the Louisiana canebrakes.

"Oh, yes, a little to say, and a lot to think," was the reply. "It's a fine specimen of Mr. Roosevelt's brand of nature study. He went into the canebrakes, according to accounts, with six or eight professional hunters, two surgeons, sixty-odd dogs, unnumbered camp followers, camera men and a few dispatch bearers to carry out accounts of his heroism in the breathless world."

"If a real hunter went down there—a man that knows how to go into the woods quietly and hunt—he would probably get all the bears he wanted. But he would have to leave the brass band and the applauding gallery behind, and that Mr. Roosevelt cannot do, hence his poor she bear."

"Does it not require a lot of courage to hunt big game?" Dr. Long was asked.

"Courage, your grandmother!" he exclaimed. "It takes some nerve to catch a chicken and wring its neck, but the courage consists, not in facing the danger, but in overcoming your own heart's objection to the killing. I often have to hunt big animals for food when I am up north, but I never heard of anybody but Mr. Roosevelt brag of his heroism."

"A bear, you know, takes to its heels and runs when the dogs begin to yelp on his trail. When they tire him out and get close and begin to nip his heels, most bears climb a tree if they can. A fat one often puts his back against a tree to protect his rear and fights the whole snarling pack."

"Then your heroic hunter comes up with a rifle repeating rifle and a camera man to take his picture and shoots the poor beast while he is wholly occupied with the dogs, and he would not notice the hunters if they started a cake walk."

"As a matter of fact, this chasing a timid animal with a pack of dogs and then shooting him from a safe distance when he cannot do a thing to save or defend himself, is pure brutal cowardice. Some men like it, but they do not brag, and I have absolutely no criticism to make. Every man must be happy in his own way."

Men's Suits And Overcoats At $15.00

Don't allow your intelligence to be insulted by advertisers who have no regard for truth.

Why not trade with a reliable house?

No last year's "bird nests" here—no "wreckage sales"—no imaginary "purchases"—no studied up reasons for advertising goods at ridiculous prices.

We have good suits and overcoats for men at $15.00.

For the reason that this is the starting point at which we sell garments, we make it a policy to give extra strong values at $15.00—selling at a very close profit in order not to reduce the standard of our merchandise.

We give you better cloth, better workmanship, more carefully selected patterns than you will find elsewhere at this figure.

And what's more we back up these suits with the usual H. & F. guarantee of satisfaction or your money back.

Think over these facts. They'll bring you to this reliable store.

PENSIONERS DECREASING.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A decrease of 18,400 in the number of pensioners on the rolls at the end of the fiscal year of 1907, as compared with the year preceding, is the feature of the annual report of Pension Commissioner Warner, just issued.

This is the greatest decrease in the history of the Pension Bureau.

The total number of pensioners June 30, 1907, was 967,371, and the total value of the pension roll at that date was $140,850,538. This is greater by $4,613,131 than the value of the roll for the year previous, and is accounted for by the higher rates of pensions provided for by the act of February, 1902.

as she half-raised up from her chair."Just see that Bernard hit that ball

cular finish of one of the most brilliant games ever played in Los Angeles.Bernard did, sure with the game all right, and the best of it is that all the receipts go to the winners in this last week of the season.Talk about your Grand Operahouse life drama! Why, the standard old giving a hand to the people wouldn't have cut any more with that bunch
of fans than the Orion Company drivers do in August, when all the spectating officials are home sick in the sun.They would have given a leg to boot 'em with, too, if they could have seen it. Crawath hit one ball almost to Santa Ana; Carlisle made one inside
Chadwick catch in left field that no one ever saw here before or behind;Catcher Esola turned in a fine inning and brought the department out when a hot staler hit him on the end of his finger; Dillon tried his best to pilot Tom's car off in a row over a hip-by-pitcher, and there was a fierce scuffle near the plate on an attempt out that beat any football game to death.BEAUTIFUL (7) DAY.
It was a beautiful day for a ball game, and over thirteen fans swarmed out to see the contest. The day turned out to be a hot one, after all. There were several light showers, but as the rainfall did not amount to over three-quarters of an inch, the game went on just the same, except that the rain
that makes ball players do their best,
and Carlisle's catch in left was such a wonderful one that it can be believed
it. He has made many fair catches in that position, but this was one you couldn't believe anything about unless you saw it. It was the third inning.
Two men were on base, and no outs.
Wheeler being on third base, and Kid Mohler on the bench, watching his ingrowing too. Barney Joy, the great pitcher, who is said to have made his start in life doing the hula-hula dance and baking pies for the soldiers of the Thirtieth Regiment in Honolulu, came to bat.Joy is not a Cobb or a Chance at the bat, and when he is at his best his batting average is about .012. He has made numerous hits during his life, and his most sensational hit, it is said,
was about three months ago, up on Ellis street one Monday, when he made two other fellows lay down a pat flush and a six full, with a pair of sevens, for an $84 jack pot. Of course, no one expected much of him, but the Seals hoped he could at least score
Wheeler from third base.BAT PALPATATION.
There was more or less palpitation
when he came to bat, and the hearts of strong men jumped up in their throats when he hit the ball and let it fly. It went sailing out and out toward that left fence, and the excited fans jumped upon their chairs
when they saw the child-wonder Carlisle start for the fence. He ran like a deer, looking over his shoulder, and still the ball went on. It shot with lightning speed toward the top of the fence, and seeing that he could not possibly catch it if he stayed on the ground, Carlisle made one desperate leap to the top of the fence, swung his legs over, and hanging head down with his face toward the sun, he reached out his lily-white hands and embraced the sphere, just before it came in contact with the fence. He undoubtedly saw the ball with his starting work,
and he was so overcome by it that he had to be helped down off the fence.
If this wasn't enough to make the fans half crazy, the next inning furnished another sensation in Esola. He was catching and a foul tip from Hogan's bat caught him on the end of the wedding finger. He jumped about ten feet in the air and let out
a yell that made some of the married men think he was putting up pictures
for his wife and had neglected to hit the nail. He hopped around for two minutes, yelling "fire" at the top of his voice, and one of the reporters became so excited that he turned in a telephone fire alarm and part of the police department responded. He was given a spoonful of Yellin's food and soon revived, although he cried for several minutes a policeman's shoulder,
until a fan yelled "Give us arrest."Jimmy Toman umpired and was red in the face before he began. He had quite a row with Dillon over a trivialCARLISLE STOPPED EVERYTHING

OAKLAND TEAM GETS FOUR BALL PLAYERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] These are the drafts of the Oakland club, attached by the National Commission,
according to a dispatch received by Ed M. Walter today:Dellars, pitcher of Tacoma club, Pacific Northwest League; Hardy, southpaw pitcher, from Troy, New York State League; McFarland, pitcher, from Tempe, Ariz.; Altman, Spokanclub, Pacific Northwest League, infielder and catcher.Out of ten drafts that were made by the Oakland club, four of them were allowed, as stated above. While there were several other good men Waltermatter, Dillon was at bat in the eleventh inning and the first ball that Joy pitched almost hit Dillon. He started down to first base, holding his left eye, and Toman ordered him back.
Dillon refused finally to go either way.
He declared the ball had hit him on the arm, and Toman said it hit him on the left leg. They almost came to blows over this, and after delaying the game
some minutes, Dillon hit a high one back of first base and finally lost the decision on a foul.DELIRIOUS TWELFTH.
In the twelfth inning there was another spasm of delicious excitement that was certainly a fitting climax to a strenuous game. Delmas was at bat,
and with Brashear on second base, Dell hunted towards first base. Joy Williams and Streib rushed in for the ball and all came together on the line in a rough-and-tumble football scrap in which arms and legs were mixed in a quivering mass. It was dangerous for any one to go near those flying legs and arms. Delmas was very anxious to get to first base and finally in despite of the fact that he was being fledg over the tangle, in going over he accidentally touched some one's hand and for this was declared out for interference, so large that Pernoil was on the ground under the men and was not recovered until they had untangled themselves from third base.Hogan followed with a pass, Hosp struck out, and then came Bernard with his long hit to the side that went through the hole.He won the game, all right, and it was a hard shot, too, but it was on a scratch bank around the table that kissed the ball into the side pocket.
He had been playing pay ball with some of the other fellows, and hadn't been out to the ball game at all, because it had rained all afternoon and his bat-ling suit had been sent to the laundry.And really there was, no baseball game, after all.ARIZONA BASEBALL.
BIIBEE BEATS PHOENIX.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PHOENIX (Ariz.), Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In one of the greatest games ever played in the Territory, Bibbee beat Phoenix here today by a score of 4 to 1. The game was very exciting from the start. Bibbee made one run in the first inning, and there was nothing more doing until the fifth,
when Pitcher Young of the Phoenix
team set the first gray with a home run, the first of the tourney. The fans yelled for ten minutes, and thought they had the Bibbee players going, but a big surprise came in the sixth inning, when Bibbee made three more runs. The line-up was as follows:Runs by inning: Phoenix 0 0 0 1 0 0 0-1 Bibbee 1 0 0 0 3 0 0-4On Wednesday Phoenix and Douglas will play, and it is predicted that it will be a warm game, as both teams
have a good line-up of professional players.The tourney is the largest gotten up in this part of the country, and is growing great success. The attendance has been large, and the management is highly pleased with results.Early this morning the betting was 5 to 1 in favor of Phoenix, but by the time Bibbee scored in the last half of the first the odds from the Copper
City could not find any even money.It is rumored that Cananea has challenged Douglas for a game for $1000
a side, and the same was accepted.ONE MORE TEAM.

The name of "Winter League" was early next month. Allen is organizing the fourth club this week.Palmer wants to arrange a postseason series with the Looelos, to be played in San Diego on November 7,

games are made the Winter League
probably will open in Los Angeles at

SAN JOSE, Oct. 22.—[Exclusive Dis-

Jose State League ball team sent a letter, last night, to Josh Reilly, third baseman and captain of the local activation, relieving him from duty for the remainder of the season.It is announced at the baseball headquarters that Reilly is unable to get away from his position in the Assessor's office in San Francisco to play ball Saturday afternoon, on account of the recent political upheaval in the metropolis.As two of the remaining games to be played are scheduled for Saturdays, it was thought advisable to lay the third baseman off for the rest of the season.BIG CHIEFS COMING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—[Ex-

lection of singles and two-baggers, inter-persed with errors and walks, with a few passed balls to add variety, Oakland lashed the Beavers to the wall today. In the early stages, McCredie looked to have a good chance, but when the Commuters got going there was nothing to stop them. Pernoil tossed the ball across the plate in a nice, gentlemanly fashion and the Oak-landers accommodated him. Their batting was heavy and came in large bunches; so large that Pernoil was lucky the score wasn't worse than 12
to 3.Portland may not have been taking
the game as a joke, but the official scorebook says that the team scored many miscues they did kick up and just what species of bush-ball you might have called it. Byrnes was not taken much interest in the prospects of a new score for their U. S. C.
game and will take no steps themselves
to have the record changed. Of Coach Sorenson held a football meeting yesterday and outlined a course of training in preparation for the gameThe Beavers made a flying start, and beat the barrier. Casey scored in the opening inning on a walk, a stolen base, an error and a hit by McCredie.
In the fourth inning, two more of the Portland runners, and then the trouble commenced. The Commuters got their eye on the ball in the fourth inning, and a bad throw by Byrnes increased the score in the fifth and gave Van's men a lead of one run.
No more followed before the game
closed.The score:

ford, Cobb, Donovan, O'Leary, Schaefer and Mullin, members of the Detroit
club, who were to take the trip, refused to go on account of the objections of the Detroit management.Secretary Nevin did not like the idea of so many of his stars playing half year. The Tigers gave up the trip

In connection with the forthcoming marriage of Dick Dwyer, formerly star of the Ascat races, and Miss Grace Finley, a charming Los Angeles girl, an evening newspaper casts a gratuitous slur on the couple, based upon a bit of harmless sentiment concerning Dwyer's alleged advice to his sweetheart as to betting on the races.
There is not the slightest foundation
for any assumption that Dwyer went beyond his rights; and as for Miss Finley, she is a young woman of high character and spotless reputation. The attack on her and Dwyer in the evening sheet was ungalant, and worthy only of "Rolly Fry."Results at Laticia.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

Net Yet—But Soon!

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Fraternity Anniversary.
Tomorrow evening at Levy's Dutch room, the Psi Omega Fraternity will celebrate with a banquet, the third anniversary of the founding of the fraternity. Angus R. Lindley will be toastmaster; Allan T. Archer, Walter E. Schmeling, Karl E. Heigold, A. Andre Gifford and T. Milton Perry, responding with toasts.

Oliver Igites Awaiting.
An awning on the second-story side of the Stimson building caught fire yesterday afternoon, presumably from a lighted cigar, tossed out of a window. The blaze was extinguished by one of the tenants, who emptied the contents of a chemical fire extinguisher upon the awning.

Don't Hold the Bank.
The District Court of Appeals handed down a decision yesterday reversing the lower court in the case of the Ocean Park Bank against Lora C. and H. C. Rogers. Mrs. Rogers deposited a check for $1000 in the bank, and was given credit. Later she was notified that the check had been drawn against a "no-fund" account. The court holds that the bank is not responsible for the amount credited to Mrs. Rogers's account.

Attorney's Mother Very Ill.
Mrs. A. L. Willis, the aged mother of Attorney F. R. Willis of No. 154 North Johnson street, was suddenly taken ill yesterday morning. Her son, Willis, was in one of the departments of the Superior Court about to begin a case, when word was brought to him of his mother's critical condition. He secured a continuance of the case and hastened home. Last night Mrs. Willis, who is about 78 years of age, was resting easily. The family physician is unable to predict the outcome.

"Liberals" Object to Chapel.
Recently Chairman Patterson persuaded the Board of Supervisors to pass an order prohibiting the holding of religious meetings in the wards of the County Hospital, on the ground that they were injurious to the patients. Patterson at the time pronounced the plan of erecting a small chapel on the hospital grounds, so that patients who were able and wished to do so could there attend religious services. It was proposed also to erect a chapel at the County Farm. Now some officers of the Los Angeles Liberal Club and declare they will oppose the extent of their ability the use of county money to erect churches. They claim they will also have the support of some of the leading radicals of this city, and that they will make their protest at the next meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

BREVITIES.

A beautiful suburban home, elegantly furnished, three acres fine lawn, flowers and shrubbery, conservatory, barn, etc. Party going East; help to remain on premises. Rent, $175 per month. Also: Office-room, including four additional living-rooms, furnished, at 729 South Hill street. For full particulars, inquire at 729 South Hill street, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. R. F. Vogel.

J. W. Frey has moved his stock of mantels, grates, tiles and andirons to his warehouse, corner Los Angeles and Twelfth streets, where he can show the largest assortment of black and brass fireplace trimmings to be found in the United States.

There are undelivered telegrams at the office of the Postal Telegraph Company for H. S. Jenkins, Max Mace, Mrs. C. E. McNeill, I. A. Newman, J. C. Davidson, C. C. Cassidy and cable for "Boyd."

Justice Ross of the Police Court returned yesterday from an extended trip through the Northern and Eastern States. While away, Justice Ross visited his former home in Michigan and spent several weeks in New York.

W. I. Colton, a deputy sheriff of Seacrest, Nev., is in Los Angeles this week on a business trip. Colton, according to the statements of mining men here, will probably take some one back with him.

Detective Tom Ziegler returned yesterday from a vacation trip to New York and the New England States. Ziegler was absent more than a month. Carlo Marchetti returned yesterday from a trip to the east coast. While away Mr. Marchetti visited every city of size in the United States.

Sergeant C. C. Sebastian of the Chinatown police squad returned yesterday from a vacation trip to the mountains in Northern California.

ROOT TAKES HAND.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Douglas Robinson and Adrian H. Joline, Thomas F. Ryan's dummy receivers of the New York City Railway company, today completed a prearranged plan of reorganization for the bankrupt surface lines.

The plan was outlined for them when they were appointed by Judge Lacombe of the United States Circuit court. New securities are to be issued to the unfortunate holders of traction stock, leases are to be revoked and guarantees withdrawn. The details of the reorganization plan will first be submitted to August Belmont, at the request of Mr. Ryan, who fears the banker may attempt to take his Interborough Rapid Transit Railway company out of the tottering $220,000,000 Interborough Metropolitan Railway Combine.

Secretary of State Root is credited with being the genius of the reorganization plan.

CALIFORNIA PENSIONERS.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to the annual report of the Commissioner of Pensions, there were 24,448 pensioners in California at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1929, who received $3,558,648 in pensions.

This telegram from our New York buyer gave us the first inkling of what turned out to be the failure of one of the greatest Department Store promotions in a decade. This great $1,000,000 corporation had made arrangements to open their doors on October 1, as we see by copies of orders turned over to our buyer. Hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of high class merchandise were being made up when the crash came. Garment manufacturers had no redress. They must find cash buyers for their goods. Many of the smaller operators with whom large orders were placed became frantic. Our buyer on his own initiative bought $10,000 worth in one day, absolutely taking over complete orders given by the Darlington Company at a discount of 32 1/2 per cent, and transferring the stock for shipment to Los Angeles. Smaller lots have been bought since.

This Big Sale Commences This Morning

Over 5000 yards in this lot. Our silk buyer (now in New York) took advantage of this opportunity and closed out from one of the big silk mills their entire shipment of silks about half of what you'd pay in the regular way.

YELLOWTAILS' MIGHTY RUN.

Three Thousand in a Day Redondo Catch.

Remarkable Fishing Piles Up Many Tons.

Fifteen Pounds Average of Enormous Lot.

Redondo experienced a remarkable run of yellowtail yesterday. Twenty-four tons is a conservative estimate of the amount carried off Pier No. 1. A count at the Redondo fish market of the yellow tail that had been taken off the pier by 5 o'clock, when they ceased to bite, showed 2500, and there were fully 500 more of the gamey fish lying on the pier at the time. These 3000 fish weighed an average of fifteen pounds each.

Less than five tons of the enormous catch were handled through the Redondo fish market, and the balance was carried away by amateur fishermen who flocked to the pier when it was discovered that the phenomenal school had come.

In every back yard of Redondo a group was to be seen cleaning fish yesterday, and along the streets were many of the prominent citizens with large fish dangling from their hands. Stores and shops were closed while the proprietors and clerks took an hour off and rushed down to the pier to enjoy the sport. Women left their baking, got out their husbands' tackle, and hastened to the wharf. By 8 o'clock in the morning the one pier where the yellowtail were taken was a scene of confusion and women. The carnival lasted practically all day.

The arrival of the steamship Santa Rosa in the forenoon temporarily interrupted the fishing on one side of the pier, but with the departure of the vessel, a greater crowd than ever swarmed to the fishing place.

Tangled lines were remarkably few, and when one fisherman did get in another's way, the tangle was unmade with plenty of good feeling. Although the whole pier was lined with people, no accidents or serious disputes took place, and the day was passed in good-natured celebration of Isaac Walton's sport.

MYRIAD OF SQUID DRAWS. The presence of a myriad of squid about the pier was the cause of the big influx of yellowfin from the deeper water. The squid are the chief food of the larger fish, and an immense school of them had been driven close to shore. They took refuge under Pier No. 1 while the voracious yellowtail lurked about the edges of the wharf, devastating the ranks of their prey.

The squid is a peculiar sort of fish of a bluish color, and the school was so numerous at Redondo yesterday that it was only necessary to drop a fishhook in the water to snag them. While still alive they were fastened to the hooks, and thrown into the water to be snapped up by the waiting yellowtail.

Conveyances of all descriptions were used to transport the yellowtail from the pier. The most popular method of moving them was to tie a string of them together, and drag them along. When a sudden heavy shower came up in the afternoon, the whole crowd of fishermen hurried for cover, and the pier seemed alive with fish.

Baby carriages, toy wagons, clothes baskets, sacks, and even wash tubs, were pressed into service to remove them. There was an almost constant stream of people leaving the pier carrying fish. Often the slippery yellowtail were carried in the arms of the women, or dragged along by the girls by the men.

Many tourists visited Redondo, and they were given fish for nothing. As one Redondo fisherman expressed it: "It would look cheap if we took money for the fish when they are so plentiful."

Great quantities of fish were sold, however, to farmers, who drove in from the surrounding country and took loads of the yellowtail away. Many tons of dressed fish were shipped to this city, but last night there was still a standing order from the Los Angeles markets for all the yellowtail that could be caught.

GREAT CATCH OFF SHORE. Professional fishermen who went out

later the train started for Los Angeles.

PRECAUTION.

TO AVOID LYNCHING SLAYER NOW HERE.

EDWARD SILVER, slayer of Deputy Sheriff Will E. Smithson at Daggett Saturday night, was brought here last evening from San Bernardino to await trial.

The cold-blooded killing aroused San Bernardino Sheriff J. C. Ralphs, who believes that his action averted a pitched battle between a well-organized mob and the officers, which might have resulted in the loss of many lives and quick swinging of the negro prisoner.

News of the capture of Silver spread like wildfire, says Sheriff Ralphs. The cold-blooded killing aroused San Bernardino county to a pitch of excitement never before displayed. Smithson was popular and his desert friends conceived the idea of breaking into the jail and lynching the murderer at any cost.

Learning that determined men had rushed from Daggett and elsewhere to San Bernardino at the news of the capture of Silver by Under Sheriff McNabb in Cajon Pass Monday night, and were organizing a mob, the San Bernardino Sheriff, a devout pioneer himself, knows what fixed determination on their part means. Groups of silent miners were constantly arriving. There was no outward display of feeling. Many people of the county backed the movement in spirit, if not by action. "Revenge" seemed to be the silent demand; yet there was no demonstration or stir.

SMUGGLED BY AUTO. Guards had been posted by the leaders of the lynching committee on the San Bernardino County Jail. At noon the excitement was tense. Sheriff Ralphs held a hurried consultation with a few trusted deputies. By a clever ruse the officers broke down the suspicion that Silver was to be taken away, and threw the watchers off their guard.

By 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon the vigilance of the guards was sufficiently relaxed to allow the plan of the Sheriff to be carried into effect.

Suddenly a large red automobile dashed up to the door of the County Jail. Out of the main entrance rushed Sheriff Ralphs and Deputy Ward, heavily armed, and between them was the prisoner. Before the alarm was given the automobile was off toward Colton. Once out of the city, the Sheriff directed his course back toward Redondo. But instead of entering that city, he veered and went to Riverside by a roundabout way. The two officers with Silver in charge pulled up at the Salt Lake station at 4:30 o'clock. A minute later the train started for Los Angeles.

ROGUISH EYES WIN HIM OVER.

Lady Brokers Get Boehnk to Invest His Pile.

Balks at Bargain and Calls in Lawyer Warner.

Commissions and Legal Fees Make Him Gasp.

Two woman real estate dealers, two men and a lawyer, furnished the cast for a farce which might well be entitled "A Fool and His Money Soon Parted," and which was taken before the City Prosecutor.

Katherine Russell and Mrs. A. E. Snodgrass or Mrs. A. J. Snodgrass, as the mood strikes her, made up the blushing femininity of the cast. They run a real estate and brokerage business under the name of Russell and Company, and before the financial lightning struck them, were located at No. 649 South Spring street. Since then they have moved to more commodious quarters at No. 525 South Spring street, and have a roll-top desk.

Things were rather dull with the "lady" brokers. They had a list of sellers over a yard long, and a list of buyers so short it could not be made up. Along about the first of the month came A. E. Boehnk of No. 111 South Figueroa street. He wished to know about a rooming-house which the firm had advertised for sale. Asked how much money he had, he hesitated, then said seven or eight hundred dollars.

The rooming-house they decided to sell him was the property of Charles A. Williams of No. 511 Central avenue, near Ansel Park. Williams was not sure of his price, according to a statement made by the women yesterday. At first he wanted $1250, but later agreed to take $1000 cash and a promissory note for $300 more.

The women polished up their arithmetic and went to work. Boehnk had $1000 at least they thought he had. Williams wanted $500 cash. With a little subtraction they found a nice fat remainder of $500 ready money left for profit. So they offered the rooming-house to Boehnk for $1100—$700 down and the balance on a note. He demurred, and they dropped the price to $1000.

ROGUISH EYES WIN HIM. To Williams they offered $800, and they say he accepted with the understanding that the women would make their commission over that sum. The little matter of getting Boehnk's check for the money was easy. He says he could not resist the roguish black eyes of Mrs. Russell. At any rate, $700 was paid, and Williams was given $400 of it to bind the deal.

Boehnk was so enraptured with his purchase that he went once more to agree to take the house without the careful chaperonage of either of the brokers. He and Williams got to comparing notes, with the result that Williams would close the deal.

Boehnk got "cold feet" and sought the advice of Attorney A. D. Warner.

"When he told me how matters stood I told him to give me $50 and I would tell him what to do," said Warner yesterday. "He paid the money, and I told him to go and demand possession of the house and to stay there a reasonable time to give Williams an opportunity to make up his mind."

Williams refused point blank, but offered Boehnk his money back. The latter went back to his attorney for advice, and Warner went with him, and they got the money, which was placed in Warner's safe.

How to get the other $300 from the brokers was Warner's next problem, and October 13 he filed an attachment suit in Justice Pierce's court, and garnished Mrs. A. E. Snodgrass's account at the National Bank of California. The attachment was returned, marked "nothing due," and signed by R. L. Rogers, cashier. Here is where the duplicate set of initials of Mrs. Snodgrass worked to her advantage. As Mrs. Snodgrass's initials were under the name of A. E. Snodgrass, but at the bank she uses her husband's initials, and writes her name, Mrs. A. J. Snodgrass.

GETS A HUNDRED BACK. In the bank there was nothing to the credit of Mrs. A. E. Snodgrass, but

LEMON GROVE AT TOP PRICE.

Such is the Claim for Transfer of Orchard Property at Whittier.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE. WHITTIER, Oct. 22.—Fred L. Wilson of this city has sold to William Bush of Milwaukee, a five-acre citrus grove for $15,000. Included in the ranch are 29-11 acres of full-bearing lemons. The balance of the acreage is in two-year-old Valencia orange trees. This is said to be the highest price ever paid for a citrus orchard hereabout. The ranch is conceded to be one of the best in this section, although not lying within the limits of the well-known East Whittier section, being just inside the northern limits of this city. The ranch has been owned by Wilson for the past year and a half, and has given him an income of $2500 this past season. The high price paid is the direct result of the fine condition of the trees, none of which are diseased. The new owner is a stranger here, having only been in this section since the first of October.

YELLOW CARS TO GLENDALE.

Los Angeles Railway Bids Itself to Immediate Extension of Eagle Rock Line.

Within ninety days, it is promised that an extension of the Eagle Rock line of the Los Angeles Railway Company will be in operation to the center of the city of Glendale—one more spoke in the company's great transportation wheel that already takes in numerous suburbs.

This latest line, work upon which must begin within thirty days, according to the contract with the people of Glendale, is to run along the Verdugo road from the present terminus of the Eagle Rock line. It will open up a large section of fine residence and ranch property and will give Glendale one more avenue of communication with Los Angeles.

Final papers were signed yesterday, through which the bonds raised by the people of Glendale was turned over to the railroad company in return for the agreement to build. Signers of the paper were General Manager Howard E. Huntington of the railroad company, H. F. Vesper of the Bank of Glendale, which holds the funds, and E. D. Goode and R. A. Blackburn for the Citizens' Committee.

GONE UP. SPEIZEREI IST AUSGESPIELT.

FINKENSTEDT'S DELICATESSENS IN CREDITORS' HANDS.

Proprietor, Who Couldn't Stand Disgrace of Failure, Takes His Departure, Leaving Many Unpaid Bills—Draws Only Part of Bank Funds—Hinted at Suicide.

Richard Finkenstedt, proprietor of several local speiserei, or delicatessen stores, has departed from Los Angeles, leaving numerous unpaid bills. He is credited with the statement that his proud nature could not brook the disgrace of failure and so he left his creditors to struggle over the assets of frankfurters, shinken, kases, speck, schwaertbrodt, wienerwurst, kalter aufschnitt, sauerkraut and such delicacies.

Several attachments were levied yesterday on the stock of the absent proprietor and other suits will be filed today. The principal creditors are represented by Attorneys Carroll Allen and W. T. Craig of the Wholesale Board of Trade. Their claims probably will aggregate over $2500.

Finkenstedt's creditors were not disposed to push their claims against him. Some time ago he was told he might have all the time he wanted in which to square his accounts. If he should return now, they would renew their offer, it is said.

But the German apparently feared to face his creditors. He repeatedly told one of his employees, after his financial situation became embarrassing, that he never would remain in the city to meet the storm. He hinted darkly at suicide.

"Mr. Finkenstedt was very despondent when I saw him last," said the manager of the Spring-street store yesterday. "I tried to cheer him up and told him better days were coming. But he told me his family had never been disgraced before and he knew a sure way to put an end to his

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Assessor Mallard asserted at last night's meeting of the Civil Service Board that civil service is costing the city $5000 a year in his department alone, the commissioners say it is not civil service, but Mallard's application of it that proves so expensive.

The Borchard Gun Club began its fight before Judge Conrey in the Superior Court yesterday for damages from Caspar Borchard because he did not fix it so the members could find ducks waiting for them when they went down to their game preserve.

Suit was begun by Cal Forrester in the Superior Court yesterday to recover some of the profits of brick making, which exposes the enormous profits of this industry.

In the belief that it was her turn, Bertha Belle Rheinhardt began suit against a Long Beach woman for $5000 damages on the grounds of false arrest and side sums for other things.

J. C. Henderson, the chauffeur charged with the murder of Oscar Otto, is making a desperate defense in his preliminary examination in Police Court.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MERIT SYSTEM A COSTLY TOY.

SO ALLEGES CITY ASSESSOR WALLARD.

Tells Commissioners That Civil Service Increases Expense of His Office Five Thousand Dollars a Year—System Good, but Application Bad, It Appears.

City Assessor Mallard threw down the gauntlet to the Civil Service Commission last night in the strenuous assertion that "civil service in the Assessor's department is costing the city $5000 a year."

Mallard insists that the classifications maintained for his department compels him to employ men and pay them $10 a month, who are not worth their salt.

Commissioner McCutcheon replied somewhat pointedly that the trouble is not with the civil service, but with Assessor Mallard's administration under it. "If you have men who are not worth their salt, it is your duty to prefer charges of incompetency against them," said McCutcheon. "This commission cannot bring charges; it can only hear them when they are preferred."

Mallard justified his failure to prefer charges by saying: "If I were to do so I should be prejudiced by the fact that the whole of my office force, fighting to prevent the dismissal of one of their number. They would hire an attorney just as they have done in the present instance, and they would swear that the man in question is highly competent. My hands are tied by civil service red tape."

During a conversation concerning civil service earlier in the day, President Pease of the City Council said: "Civil service is growing to be a good deal of a farce. It appears to me that there is entirely too much politics in it."

President Pease moved to this strong assertion by hearing the civil service employees are organizing a Civil Service League for mutual aid and protection. At the City Hall the opinion prevails that such a league will become a feature in political campaigns, as well as in City Hall politics during the course of an administration.

In defending civil service, the commissioners say that there are some defects in the merit provision of the city charter; one of these defects is that when the civil service went into effect every civil employee was held to be under civil service without taking examination for the place he occupied. The result of this was to throw the cloak of civil service about a host of petty politicians who secured their appointments under the old spoils system. This thorn in the side of civil service continues to exist; it plays a part in almost every merit controversy.

The result of the present entanglements in the municipal service will probably be modification of the civil service section of the charter so as to place employment and dismissal on a merit basis alone.

Assessor Mallard went before the commission to advocate a new classification of positions in his office. Deputies under him say that his classification would "classify" them out of positions that they hold by virtue of civil service. They retained Attorney H. J. Goudge to represent them and they are making a strong fight before the board against the Mallard classification.

Mallard told the commissioners that several of the ten "hold-over" men in his department are unfit for the positions they occupy; but he says his office force is so weak because of it that it is practically impossible to make charges of incompetency stick against any one of his deputies. "They would wear me out of any charges I might bring," asserted Mallard.

During the course of the hearing, it became apparent that Mallard had intended to displace a number of the men who have been in the Assessor's office for a number of years and put new arrivals in their positions. The commissioners allege that Mallard is playing politics in trying to get rid of them, and Mallard's reply was that he was not interested in politics but in holding positions for which they are not fitted.

The civil service board has taken the question of classification and politics under advisement.

Guards for Crossings.

Representatives of local steam and electric railroads discussed grade crossings yesterday morning with the Council's special crossing committee. The Los Angeles-Pacific Company was not represented, as this company has no grade crossing of steam roads in the city. The Council's committee is committed to the railroads a number of grade crossings where they think watchmen should be stationed. The railroads will make their reply next Tuesday morning.

Detective Shake-Up.

D. L. Craig and Ben Zowan lost their places as detectives in a shake-up of the inner circle of the police department yesterday. They are reduced to the rank of patrolmen and P. H. Murray and R. R. Craig are advanced to places as detectives. The civil service classification places patrolmen and detectives in the same grade and the Police Commission is permitted to select the officers who shall serve on the detective force.

Miss Casey Wins.

Charlotte Casey succeeded in getting her examination papers for a place in the library, reduced by the civil service board, last night. In the first announcement of the result of the examination, Miss Casey received a rating of 54 per cent. In the revision, an error was discovered in adding up the number of points she scored, and the result that she now has a rating of 56 per cent. This advance gave her five numbers in the Library classification.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

DUCKS THAT NEVER CAME.

GUN CLUB MEMBERS SUE FOR OUTRAGED FEELINGS.

Lease of Swamp Was Faulty and Ground Could Not Be Flooded, so the Borchard Gun Club Nimrods Had to Put Up With a Horse Pond for Nearly Three Seasons.

Papa E. W. Hopperstad, father of the Borchard Gun Club, is now a member of the Alamitos Gun Club. The reason for this is that the Borchard Gun Club has brought suit against Caspar Borchard of Santa Ana for a rectification of its lease on thirty-five acres of swamp land and for $7500 damages for lack of ducks.

The queer case went to trial before Judge Conrey in the Superior Court yesterday, and a hard fight is being put up by both sides on all kinds of points to win. Attorney Bernard Foster represents the Borchard Gun Club and George P. Adams of Los Angeles and Attorney Williams of Santa Ana appear for Mr. Borchard.

In the swamp above Huntington Beach, near the delta of the Santa Ana River, Borchard owns a considerable tract of land. Back in 1901 Hopperstad thought what a nice thing it would be to have a little gun club where he and his friends could retire to shoot ducks during the season. His friends thought so, too, and seven of them joined, organized the club and leased from Borchard thirty-five acres of swamp land for ten years at $400 a year.

The agreement was that Borchard should build dams and pump enough water to flood most of the acreage for the purpose of attracting the wild ducks that were to be shot. The lease was made out and a little house put up for the hunters, and the season of 1906-07 was looked forward to with sporting anticipations by the "bunch."

When the season opened, the sportsmen went down to Orange county prepared to make the limit every day. But instead of a fine lake covered with fat ducks, waiting to be shot, they found a pond of between one and two acres, only big enough for one man to shoot over. Well, they no longer managed to get a few ducks there were scared over the Bolsa Chica grounds, and the rest of the time they played marbles or something.

The trustees of the club, J. R. Armstrong, A. J. Clipp, Grover E. Bell, George W. Wise, R. B. Pindat, P. Frechacq and Lydia E. Pindat.

FIGHT HARD TO SAVE AUTOIST.

ON BY ATTORNEYS.

Testimony Offered at Preliminary Examination to Show That Slein Man, Otto, Had Attacked Henderson in Quarrel Over Wife of the Former, Who Has Disappeared.

A desperate fight is on to save the life of J. C. Henderson, the chauffeur charged with the murder of O. E. Otto. Through the long morning and afternoon sessions in Police Court yesterday, attorneys for the defense sought to keep away from the man he hated, Otto, by the use of self-defense.

That Otto had determined to revenge himself upon Henderson because of Henderson's association with Mrs. Otto was the theme of the defense. Every word the attorneys for Henderson uttered was with the revenge idea in view.

Slowly but surely, Henderson built up a self-defense theory. A dozen witnesses gave testimony favorable to Henderson, although they were called by the prosecution.

These witnesses have been intimate with both parties to the fight. Most of them had heard threats. According to their evidence, Otto was constantly talking of how he intended to get even with Henderson. They had fought on one occasion, and Otto, although the smaller man, beat Henderson unmercifully.

But Henderson's infatuation for Mrs. Otto continued despite the beating. On the night of October 16, the night of the tragedy, Otto had learned that Mrs. Otto had been with Henderson, and the automobile man had spent the afternoon together.

Otto went to the garage where Henderson worked, in the presence of several other automobile men, they renewed their quarrel. Otto, according to the state's evidence, was the aggressor, struck at Henderson—then came the flash from the revolver and Otto dropped.

Mrs. Otto cannot be found. From the night of the tragedy until the present she has kept away from the police. That she will be the star witness in the defense of Henderson, should the case be taken to the Superior Court, is the belief of many.

Attorneys Harris and Combs Davis have been retained by Henderson. Prosecuting Attorney J. C. McQuinn is in charge of the case for the people.

This morning the case will be concluded in Police Court. The defense will offer no testimony at the preliminary examination.

Woman Smashes Things.

A woman who gave the name of Clara Sutherland caused something like a panic in the Illinois lodging, yesterday by breaking furniture and tossing things from a window. She had been drinking freely. A deputy sheriff estate of Millionaire Smith is still in court, but shortly after his death, his heirs, the widow, Mrs. Emily L. Smith, and the children, Frank L. Smith and Mrs. Cora Carnahan, signed an agreement to let to Jergins a tract of land on West Seventh street for $100,000, subject to confirmation by the court.

When the case came before the court D. C. McGarvin caused the first excitement by bidding $110,000, and it was finally knocked down to Theo. Weisenburger for $145,000. Jergins claimed that the extra $45,000 represented the profit, he was entitled to, and brought suit. This is the one which is to be compromised.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

JUST IN TIME. The day before he died James Morton Van Trees of this city made his will, disposing of an estate valued at $15,000 between his widow and three sons. Yesterday Mrs. Lucretia Van Trees filed a petition in the Probate Court for probate of the will.

FEUD HARD HIT. A fence and a pile of dirt has caused a neighborhood feud on Yale street and yesterday the suit of Giuseppe Guagliardi against F. S. Stone to abate a nuisance and damages was tried before Judge Monroe in the Superior Court. Giuseppe built a fence along the side of his lot and Stone piled up a bank of earth on his side, so that when a heavy rain comes it threatens to wash out the fence. Judge Monroe held that a man had right to build a ridge of earth on his own land to keep out water and decided for the defendant.

FIGHT HARD TO SAVE AUTOIST.

ON BY ATTORNEYS.

Testimony Offered at Preliminary Examination to Show That Slein Man, Otto, Had Attacked Henderson in Quarrel Over Wife of the Former, Who Has Disappeared.

A desperate fight is on to save the life of J. C. Henderson, the chauffeur charged with the murder of O. E. Otto. Through the long morning and afternoon sessions in Police Court yesterday, attorneys for the defense sought to keep away from the man he hated, Otto, by the use of self-defense.

That Otto had determined to revenge himself upon Henderson because of Henderson's association with Mrs. Otto was the theme of the defense. Every word the attorneys for Henderson uttered was with the revenge idea in view.

These witnesses have been intimate with both parties to the fight. Most of them had heard threats. According to their evidence, Otto was constantly talking of how he intended to get even with Henderson. They had fought on one occasion, and Otto, although the smaller man, beat Henderson unmercifully.

But Henderson's infatuation for Mrs. Otto continued despite the beating. On the night of October 16, the night of the tragedy, Otto had learned that Mrs. Otto had been with Henderson, and the automobile man had spent the afternoon together.

Otto went to the garage where Henderson worked, in the presence of several other automobile men, they renewed their quarrel. Otto, according to the state's evidence, was the aggressor, struck at Henderson—then came the flash from the revolver and Otto dropped.

Mrs. Otto cannot be found. From the night of the tragedy until the present she has kept away from the police. That she will be the star witness in the defense of Henderson, should the case be taken to the Superior Court, is the belief of many.

Attorneys Harris and Combs Davis have been retained by Henderson. Prosecuting Attorney J. C. McQuinn is in charge of the case for the people.

This morning the case will be concluded in Police Court. The defense will offer no testimony at the preliminary examination.

Prosecutes Her Daughter.

Mrs. Fanny Sanger of No. 228 Jackson street yesterday filed a complaint in Police Court charging Mrs. Bertha Baker, her daughter, with the charge of prostitution.

Mrs. Sanger, an aged German, told Prosecuting Attorney Ford that her daughter withheld $400 of the money and had been abusive and cruel. The daughter will be tried in Police Court today.

Schoolboy Fight.

Merrill Wyatt, a good-looking schoolboy, was fined $2 in Police Court yesterday on a charge of battery. The complaint against Wyatt was sworn to by Fulton Vandepiet, another schoolboy. Wyatt is a member of the school.

Wyatt did not like the remark. He singled out Vandepiet as the offender and struck him in the jaw. Wyatt pleaded guilty and the court was lenient.

SALARY CASE UP TODAY.

The petition of Prosecuting Attorney E. J. Fleming for a writ of mandate to compel the Police Court to pay the salaries of the Police Court prosecutors will come up today before the Supreme Court en banc. A speedy decision is expected, as it has been represented that the withholding of salaries has proved a great inconvenience to the prosecutors.

At yesterday's session, a number of cases were disposed of. None of them presented features of public interest.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY MEETS.

The federal grand jury met yesterday afternoon for a brief session. It is understood that the cases of several defendants who are in the County Jail on charges of counterfeiting and violations of the postal laws, came up for consideration. Although the United States District Attorney's office is very reticent regarding the threatened indictment of General Attorney T. J. Norton of the Santa Fe, for his alleged violation of the Interstate Commerce act, it is generally believed an attempt will be made to secure a true bill against him. Attorney Norton, who is now in Chicago, was charged in open court with illegally issuing a pass to one of the witnesses in the recent rebate case.

The pamphlet report of the Wisconsin Central Railroad Company for the fiscal year ended June 30 last shows a surplus equal to 4 per cent. on the preferred and 3.7 per cent. on the common stock of the corporation. The increase in the gross earnings was $408,602, and only $270,984 in the net.

by Judge Bledsoe of the Superior Court in San Bernardino, who, at the same time, gave a strong opinion to the effect that the bonds were legal. The bond buyers, however, refused to take the bonds, suggesting that the question of legality be brought before the Supreme Court through writs.

A hearing has been had in the Superior Court on the petition of citizens that a probate committee of seven citizens be appointed by the court, to serve without pay. It is probable that the officers of trust and family, upon their return from a six months' tour of Europe.

At the invitation of Mayor S. C. Evans, the citizens of Riverside will join in a reception at the Glenwood Hotel, Friday, in honor of Frank A. Miller and family, upon their return from a six months' tour of Europe.

They spent the summer studying the best types of Old World architecture with a view of gaining ideas to be incorporated into the million-dollar hotel which Mr. Miller is to erect soon in the Yosemite Valley, and for which he has a concession from the government.

Mountain resort hotels, castles and monasteries in Norway, estates on the Rhine and hotels in Switzerland have been visited, and in addition to gathering a wealth of suggestions as to architecture, they have also secured some rich tapestries, bronzes and other furnishings for the hotel.

The family is at Lake Tahoe, but is expected home Friday.

RIVERSIDE NOTES.
Antonio Augustine and Lomino Segundo, the Torres Indians who are held under the charge of having murdered Juan Segundo, the husband of the dusky Lomino, entered a plea of "not guilty" today when arraigned before Judge Denmore in the Superior Court.

The trial of Augustine will be held December 2, and Lomino Segundo will have his trial in December. Mrs. Cora Holden was given an interlocutory decree of divorce from Edgar W. Holden today by Judge Denmore, and was given her maiden name, Cora C. Simms.

DISCUSS INCORPORATION.
Hemet Citizens Consider Question of Organizing City of the Sixth Class.

HEMET, Oct. 22.—The mass meeting called Monday evening to discuss the question of incorporating Hemet as a city of the sixth class, brought out a large number of the citizens. Mr. Holloway of Monrovia was one of the principal speakers. A debate on the same subject has been arranged for the evening of November 4.

NOTES OF HEOMET.
Alger Fast has been appointed assistant to W. F. Whittier, president of the Hemet Land and Water company. Mr. Fast has been a resident of Hemet for several years.

J. H. Orme has sold to F. W. Heidenrich two lots and a tenhouse on the corner of First and A streets. Consideration is said to have been $500.

George F. Keep reports selling six of his town lots on the corner of Raymond street and Acacia avenue to C. Raymond McAdams; reported consideration $100.

Lawrence Brubaker has accepted the position of janitor for the Lake Hemet Water Company.

H. S. Dukes has begun the erection of a five-room cottage on Carmelita street. The cottage will be several days in extending its line to Sage and Oak Grove.

H. A. E. Marshall, supervisor of the San Jacinto forest reserve, is now located at Hemet permanently.

LEASE RANCH.
Colony of Greeks to Engage in Vegetable Raising at Ado-Episcopo.

CORONA, Oct. 22.—A colony of Greeks, comprising ten families, from Los Angeles and vicinity, have practically closed arrangements for securing an eight-year lease of J. R. Newberry's 120-acre tract, about 120 acres. The foreigners, who are said to be thirty, are to take possession of the ranch November 1, and give their time to raising vegetables.

Queen Colony Fruit Exchange has elected the following directors: W. H. Jamieson, Frank Scoville, Jacob Stoner, S. R. Hampton and A. E. Call. Of these, W. H. Jamieson is president, S. R. Hampton, vice-president, and F. H. Roberts, secretary and manager, and also local representative at the meetings of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, and the Fruit Growers' Supply Company; First National Bank, treasurer.

The guild of the Episcopal Church is arranging to present two comedies, "The Obsolete Family" and "Monseigneur," for the benefit of the church.

Mrs. Joel Kloss and Miss Carrie Newberry returned Sunday from their three months' trip to Worthington, Minn. They were accompanied by Mrs. Kloss's father, B. Goodrich.

Frank Spencer left last evening for Fulton, N. Y., to which city he accompanied his wife, who died suddenly Friday.

Mrs. D. W. Walkinslaw, who died in Long Beach Saturday and was buried there yesterday, was well known here.

FULLERION WILL VOTE.
Bond Election on Question of Paving of City Streets With Oil to Be Held.

FULLERTON, Oct. 22.—An election will be held in this city next Tuesday to vote on a bond issue of $50,000 to oil-pave the streets throughout this city. Mayor Benchley and City Clerk Rudwick, in a signed statement, say that after a careful investigation of this class of road work in Santa Monica and other cities they find the public highways in those towns to be in good condition after four years. They also state that all work will be done by contract let to the lowest responsible bidder and under supervision of the City Engineer and Street Superintendent.

These city officials also hold that as the city has an assessed valuation of $1,000,000, it will require but a slight increase in taxation to pay the bonds and interest. Those who favor the bond issue believe it will carry, but it is held by others that there will be strong opposition on election day.

WILL NOT ASK FOR MANDATE.
City Council of San Diego Decides That Bond Buyers May Bear Burden of Test Case.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 22.—Instead of bringing mandamus proceedings to test the legality of the recent bond issue, the City Council has decided to place the burden on the bond buyers by notifying them that the bonds are ready for delivery. The purchasers were the State Company of Los Angeles and the Security Savings Bank and Trust Company of this city. After the award was made, attorneys for the companies raised the question of legality, and demanded the return of the certified checks deposited when the bids were filed. To prevent the return of the checks, former City Attorney Andrew brought mandamus proceedings, the action being sustained.

FARMERS ELECT OFFICERS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.)
OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.), Oct. 22.—The Farmers' National Congress elected the following officers for the coming year:

President, Col. B. Cameron, Staggville, N. C.; first vice-president, Joshua Strange, Marion, Ind.; second vice-president, A. L. Strayer, Illinois; secretary, George M. Whitaker, Washington, D. C.; treasurer, W. L. Ames, Oregon, Wis.; Executive Committee, J. W. Wickey, Ocala, Springs, Miss. (long term); Levi Morrison, Greenville, Pa. (short term).

It was decided to place the selection of the next meeting place to the Executive Committee.

E. H. Webster, chief of the dairy division of the Department of Agriculture, spoke at the morning session. He urged the importance of dairy farming in every community. The afternoon session opened with a call of States and three-minute responses.

Relieved in Less Than One Hour

A man who had suffered for months came to us yesterday and secured relief in less than an hour. He had tried others but failed to obtain any relief. The thoroughness of my examination, the method by which the complaint, and my exceptional skill enabled me to succeed where he had been disappointed before. I can doubtless do as much for you. Consultation is free. In the case of others, my fellow workers have been deprived of $34 and a few trinkets.

Never in the history of Oxnard has there been such a haul made by burglars. The thoroughness of the work indicates that it was accomplished by a past-master in the business, and although night watchman, marshal and constables are working overtime to secure their men, the chase has been fruitless thus far.

ORANGE.
ORANGE, Oct. 22.—A valuable team of horses belonging to F. H. Lerner, manager of the George S. Briggs ranch, was stolen Sunday night. About midnight a young son of E. Stanley, who sleeps in a tent in the back yard, heard a horse, and thinking it was one of their horses loose, he got up in time to see a solitary man on a pony riding away. A little later the hired man on the Briggs ranch was awakened by the horses snorting, but thought nothing of it, and went back to sleep.

Yesterday morning the horses were missing. The halters had been unbuckled and left tied to the mangers. No tracks were found in the yard except the shoe prints of a pony. After the neighbors had been aroused and an investigation started, the shoe prints were found to be the same as those in the Stanley yard. This may furnish a clue, although young Stanley cannot definitely describe the pony or its rider. Sheriff Lacy was notified, and is trying to locate the thief. This is the first case of this kind in this community in years.

I Cure Men

While I might with equal success turn my attention to the cure of all bodily ailments, I feel safer in confining my practice to the diseases that have claimed my ENTIRE TIME AND ENERGY in mastering for the past twenty-five years. My methods of treating men are a result of MY OWN study and experience. They are the methods that have made me a SUCCESSFUL specialist, and are practiced by NO physician OTHER than myself.

You Can Pay When Cured
Why My Cures Are Lasting

Because the methods I employ meet even the most MINUTE DETAILS of these ailments to which they apply, and are readily modified to meet the requirements of individual cases. Because my treatment is AMPLIFIED, SCIENTIFIC and THOROUGH, and my cures are complete and my patients have no relapses. For the same reason I am usually able to cure in MUCH LESS time than is commonly required in obtaining but practical results.

Contracted Diseases
Improper treatment of contracted diseases can easily bring loss of power. An examination reveals this very cause in a large portion of the cases of weakness. Lingering inflammation entering in the prostate gland is sure to result in disordered functions, and the condition will never be corrected until the inflamed and swollen gland is restored to its normal state. I thoroughly cure every contracted disease I treat. The remedies I employ are known by myself alone, and no other physician has yet produced equally good and thorough cures.

Varicocele, Hydrocele, Specific Blood Poison, Piles and Stricture are included in the list of diseases I cure.

Weakness
So long as physicians continue along the old lines of treatment of this disorder, men will continue to be disappointed time and again in their efforts to obtain a cure. I have found that disorders entirely local are responsible for general weakness, loss of power, etc., and that there is not even the slightest possibility of obtaining a cure through use of internal remedies. My treatment is directed toward the removal of all abnormal conditions throughout the organs involved, and I do not fail in a single instance to restore complete and permanent activity of all the functions.

I offer consultation free either at my office or by mail, and am always glad to render any advice that may be helpful. All correspondence strictly confidential.

Consult Me First

Even though your case may be one that some other doctor is able to cure, and although his cure be absolutely thorough and permanent, there is yet good cause for your coming to me for treatment. The service I render is entirely unlike and better than the ordinary. I have devised new and scientific methods in all my phases. I cure cases that others cannot cure, and cases that others cure in less time and without pain or possibility of injury. All my forms of treatment have been perfected along the lines of nature's requirements and are in exact harmony with the natural recuperative forces. Therefore, my cures are painless, prompt and thorough.

methods of treating men's diseases and cases that others can cure I cure in less time and without pain or possibility of injury. All my forms of treatment have been perfected along the lines of nature's requirements and are in exact harmony with the natural recuperative forces. Therefore, my cures are painless, prompt and thorough.

Not a Dollar Need be Paid Until Cured
Varicocele
There is no necessity for surgical operations in the treatment of varicocele. This disease yields completely to my mild and painless method, and results are far better than were ever attained by the harsh and dangerous practice of cutting. But one week is required, and seldom is it even necessary to detain the patient.

Stricture
I have again triumphed over surgery, and my own original method of treating stricture is a quiet, restful, and results in full and complete return of strength and vigor. My cures are permanent because the condition responsible for the functional disorder is entirely removed. No pain, no cutting, no dilating and a sure cure in every instance.

The Machinery of a Bank

The first question that occurs to a person about to select a bank with which to do business is—how do they do business, what methods do they use to transact my business and insure the safety of my deposits? The system devised by the Columbia Trust Company for the careful and safe conduct of its business is the most complete possible. The responsibility rests upon a Board of eleven Directors; this Board meets every alternate Wednesday and passes upon every loan made by the Bank, upon every expenditure and upon every matter that affects the business of the Bank. This is the ordinary procedure in all well conducted banks, but the Directors of the Columbia Trust Company are furnished with extraordinary facilities for intelligent direction and absolute immediate knowledge and participation in every act of the Bank. The Board of Directors has a separate room accessible to no one but themselves; this room is fitted with special locks to which no one but the Directors possess keys; within the room are record cabinets fitted with special locks in which are kept duplicates of the Bank records for the special use of the Directors, so that at any hour of the day a Director can go to his own room and without interruption and without interfering with the employees of the Bank, scan at his leisure every transaction of the Bank. The close attention of the Directors to the business of the Bank thus secured and the direct responsibility thus placed upon them is of inestimable value in the safe conduct of its business. All loans or investments made by the Bank are first passed upon by an Executive Committee of five members of the Board of Directors. The Executive Committee meets every morning at 9 o'clock so that the applications for loans filed during the previous day may be passed upon promptly before the Bank opens at ten o'clock.

A customer of the Bank wishing a loan applies to one of the officers; if the customer has not already a full statement of his resources, one is taken together with a description of the security which he wishes to offer; this statement and offer of security is presented to the Executive Committee, together with a tabulated record showing when the applicant for the loan became a depositor, the smallest amount of balance he has carried, the largest amount of balance he has carried, and the average of his balance by weeks, also his commercial rating and such other information concerning his integrity, business ability and standing as may be available. If upon the showing made and the security offered, the loan is desirable, it is ordered made. A duplicate record of the loan and security is placed in the Directors' room files ready for their inspection and approval. Prompt action is thus secured for the patrons of the Bank and every interest safe-guarded with the utmost care.

Every Director is an integral part of the machinery of the Bank, competent, interested and efficient. The Columbia Trust Company attributes its rapid growth largely to the method of handling its business.

The business of the public is solicited and every facility and accommodation consistent with good banking is assured.

HORSE ON HIS CHEST.

J. Jebel, an employee of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, was seriously injured last night when a horse stepped upon his chest at Aliso and Alameda streets. Three of his ribs were fractured. Jebel was watering a team, and a passing car frightened the animals, which started forward and hurled the man to the ground. He was sent to the Emergency Hospital.

FAIR CHARMS OF THE CITY BEAUTIFUL CONSPICUOUS IN THE WILSHIRE DISTRICT.

Remarkable Development of One of the Western Residence Areas of Los Angeles—Beautiful New Houses and Attractive Lots.

THIS section of today's Times illustrates the growth taking place
in one of the most popular and beautiful of the many residence sections of the city. The section is known as the Wilshire boulevard district. It is a somewhat indefinite term, but the district is generally understood to be the area near the western boundary of Westlake Park and to run on both sides of Wilshire boulevard westerly to the city limits, the same type of country continuing to Colgrove and toward Hollywood, a direction in which the growth of the city seems destined to progress at a rapid pace.

Between Westlake Park and Sunset Park, the building dates back a period of fifteen years or more. It is worth mentioning that this beautiful section of the city lying between Sixth and Eighth or Ninth streets and between the two parks was built up almost solidly
during the dull period along from 1890 up to 1897 or 1898. The district illustrated here at this time was fifteen years ago almost a waste, the territory being occupied by dairies,
grain fields, small vineyards and similar farming enterprises. The population, already compact along just west of Sunset Park, and growing in density every week farther west, has all gone in there within the last seven years. The district at the beginning of this period had neither streets nor other feature of city life. The plotting of the subdivisions, grading and paving the streets, putting in sidewalks and other street improvements, and all the creation of the hundreds of beautiful homes existing there, have been the work of these few years.

The construction of Wilshire boulevard has undoubtedly been a prime factor in the rapid development of this section. It was about the first street ever laid out in the city of Los Angeles of really ample width. At first this magnificent highway extended only from the western boundary of Westlake Park as far as where Sunset Park is now laid out. Within the short period dwelt upon here, the magnificent boulevard has been improved in a westerly direction until it
now reaches the city limits.

The ground in this portion of the city
is a high plateau, affording magnificent views, first of the city, then westward to the beautiful Hollywood country, framed in the low range of mountains to the west and north, and other beautiful homes to the east.
The high Sierra Madre and southward of the plain, as far as Santa Monica and out into the ocean.
This combination forms a setting calculated to render a residence district of the city exceedingly popular. The popularity is proved by the wonderful growth of population in the Wilshire boulevard district and by the high grade of houses that have been built there. It would be difficult to find in any other city so great a variety of architecture and all so charmingly beautiful. There are mission houses, Queen Anne houses, early English, Elizabethan, Italian and even Normandy and Germany will be suggested in many of the residences occupying this slightly plateau. Another feature of the district is the ample grounds that surround many of these beautiful homes. It is not unusual to find a frontage of 120 feet and upward. On some of the wide boulevards the lots have a depth of as much as 275 feet. Laid out in lawns, dotted with flowering shrubs,
with brilliant parterres of flowers and a goodly sprinkling of trees of stately growth, these houses, with their setting, form as charming a picture as the eye could wish upon.

There is something to do to enhance the attractiveness of this beautiful residence section. It is too new to have the stately trees that align the sidewalks in the older Wilshire boulevard tract; but it does not require a generation in California to produce a growth of street trees which will render the surroundings of homes so much more attractive. In eastern cities twenty-five to fifty years of growth
scarcely bring the trees to perfection.
In the older Wilshire boulevard tract
there are rows of eucalyptus which far overtop the highest of the residences which they adorn. These are scarcely more than ten to twelve years growth.
Another important matter in this connection is the variety to be had in parking streets in this mild climate.
The shade trees of Southern California are almost all evergreen. The eucalyptus is such. The acacias are so are the pepper trees, which form the most attractive feature in the landscape. Then there are as many varieties of palms as there are of the acacias, and due attention to variety
may be made to produce most admirable effects in the creation of the City Beautiful.

UNIQUE SHOW PLACE.
Beverly Hills, "Occupied" Suburb of Fine Homes and Many Charming in Distinctive Class.

When men of great means unite to create a suburb that will measure up to any residence in the district in extensiveness and deliberately plan to manage the enterprise so that property may be sold at the lowest possible figures—
not the highest—then Los Angeles may indeed be graded up for her public-spirited and broad-minded citizens.
The whole idea behind Beverly Hills
has been to build up a real, a successful and an occupied suburb. Not to sell property, but to build homes, that is the intention announced by the owners of Beverly Hills. The first street of $4000 up, and thus only the better class of homes are permitted.
The splendid residences that begin to rise along the broad avenues suggest what an imposing district it will be when all the contemplated homes
are finished. With its parks and wealth

Anthony of the Western Motor Car Company, built in modified old English style. On the next rise of ground are the homes of William D. Longyear, William K. Peasley and J. Frank Walters. The Walters' house on the southwest corner of Wilshire and Harvard rests on a lot fronting 135 feet on Wilshire by 210 feet on Harvard boulevard,
and represents an outlay of $40,000.
This place is the Wilshire Harvard Heights tract, embodying eighty acres of land, and extending from Wilshire
south to San Marino, from Normandie west to Harvard. This is one of the choicest and most slightly stretches on the street. Standing on Wilshire and Harvard looking southwest may be seen Pico Heights from one to two miles further removed from the city, and where prices range 30 to 50 per cent higher.
The grading and cement work alone
for Wilshire Harvard Heights cost over $125,000. About 87 tons of 4-inch ground a short distance northwest from Westlake Park. A portion of the adjoining land on the same high ridge was laid out in blocks and lots for the use of those interested in the college. Some grading and other street work was done, and many palms, pap-

per and eucalyptus trees were planted.
Later quite a number of pretentious houses were erected, but the boring
for oil on the hills nearer the city sent
the tide of building in other directions,
and the beautiful grounds were left with but few settlers. The trees have grown to large size, and now that the oil derricks are being removed, homesitters again are pushing to the north and west, following the natural impulse to build on the higher ground.
Three years ago the large ravine near Rampart and Sixth streets was turned over to the city for park purposes. No one now can recognize it in the new and beautiful Sunset Park,
and now one of the finest drives out

Sunset Park from Rampart Height

pipe used up $10,000. Poles and wires for electricity will take $4000 more. A 2-foot concrete storm drain 1800 feet long took $15,000. Gas and incidentals will eventually amount to many thousands more. The showing of property requires in these days a $2000 to $5000 automobile, a chauffeur and an office force of from three to ten.
The higher priced Wilshire frontage
is all sold, mostly for improvement.
Very little being offered at second hands. Off Wilshire, prospective buyers may choose between nineteen blocks of improved streets at prices ranging from $1100 to $2500 per lot.
Easy terms are offered and the preference given in all cases to actual home builders.
Larger profits have been made by purchasers in subdivisions than by the original subdividers themselves. The sales in Wilshire Harvard Heights tract alone total to date over $200,000.
E. A. Forrester and Sons, Inc., sales
agents for Wilshire Harvard Heights, 342-34 Douglas building, Third and Spring streets, run an auto at the service of parties interested in seeing this property; car to Harvard, thence one

Seigh, tract agent.

beyond Sunset Park on the next rise
of ground, just north of Wilshire boulevard, where many homes are being built. The high ground near the old Baptist college has once more become desirable residence property, and
both the Inter-urban and Los Angeles railroads have built extensions through the heart of it. The Forest Park Company, which purchased 100 acres of this property some months ago, is regrading and improving the streets,
and many new two-story homes already are established among the trees planted years ago.
First street, which passes directly through this tract, is the popular route toward Hollywood, and arrangements have been completed by which this fine street is to be paved with asphalt from Rampart boulevard to Vermont
avenue, making it the best automobile and driveway route in that part of the city.

AN ELEVATED SPOT.
Rampart Heights, With Many Other Attractions, Commands Beautiful Panoramic View.
Rampart Heights is one of the most elevated spots in the Wilshire boulevard district. Here rests the eye of the visitor as he approaches, and from this hill a magnificent view of the city,
the mountains and the surrounding country is had. Two years ago there were about 200 oil wells spouting on this hill. About this time Messrs.
Strong and Dickinson bought the elevated tract, and have spent $100,000 in improvements.
Now everything is complete, except oil drilling. The macadam has been distributed on Andrews boulevard, which is 140 feet in width—the widest street in Los Angeles. The sidewalks are of cement, and ten feet
in width, and the parkways are twenty feet wide, leaving a seventy-foot roadway between curbs. The parkway will be seeded to lawns, and shade trees planted at suitable intervals.
This boulevard is 300 feet above
ocean level, one of the highest points
in Western Los Angeles. This tract is reached by three car lines—two on West Sixth street, and the Bimini Baths line, giving a six-minute service, and reaching the City Hall in fifteen minutes. In addition, the Los Angeles-Pacific subway will pass through the tract, when the cars will land the passenger in the business center of the city in five minutes.
Lots on Andrews boulevard are 100x

215 feet, an unusually large size. The building restrictions are from $500 to $15,000. So far, every house built on this tract has cost from $1,000 to $20,000.
The sewer system is complete, also the water system, a 30-inch main running through the tract, thus giving a high pressure. The tract is lighted by electricity.
Rampart boulevard, also on this tract, is 130 feet in width, the cement sidewalks are eight feet wide, and the parkways are seventeen feet in width.
The boulevard is being macadamized.
The property between Sixth and Third streets is being offered for family hotels, apartment-houses, double houses, etc. It is an admirable location for such houses. In addition to three street-car lines that run in front of the property, there will be a station
on Rampart boulevard for the new subway, which will be fourteen feet beneath the surface. The remainder of Rampart and all of Coronado street will continue to be held strictly for residences. Fifty-foot lots on Rampart are being offered at $50 a foot,
and sixty-five-foot and seventy-foot lots on Coronado street at $27 a foot.
Aggravating Man.
"I don't see how you can have any fault to find with him."
"Why not?"
"Because he appears to be a man who is absolutely without faults of any sort."
"That's just it. That's his worst fault."—[Catholic Standard.]

The Fourth street car line is now building into the Wilshire Boulevard District. It passes directly through Norwood Terrace Extension.

Just fourteen lots unsold here--at original prices.

How long do you think this condition will last--big lots, facing wide boulevards, in the finest residence section of the city, where so much building is going on--with direct, quick car service coming nearer daily?

Prices $1500 up. Easy terms.

Get your first payment down at once--now--within the next few days.

An advance is due. Conditions justify it. It will come.

LAST DAY OF GRACE.
Unless Two Bankrupt Dry Goods Men
Produce Goods or Money Trouble
Will Pursue Them.

This is the last day of grace for the bankrupt dry goods firm of Deser & Lifrand of No. 442 Central Avenue. Last week Referee in Bankruptcy Lynn Helm issued an order to show cause
why the bankrupts should not produce goods to the value of $10,000, or the equivalent in cash, as a result of the searching investigation conducted by

Attorney W. T. Craig of the Wholesaler's Board of Trade. In a series of meetings, Jacob Deser and Louis Lifrand were grilled for their inability to account for more than $10,000 worth of goods. Their excuse that a large part of their deficit was due to extensive losses at the race track, was brushed aside by the referee as a pure fabrication. The bankrupts must either produce the missing goods, pay over the equivalent or else face the alternative of criminal proceedings.

The creditors declare they are prepared to prove that goods valued at thousands of dollars were carted away
in the night from the store of Deser & Lifrand to that of Goldner & Deser on the same street. Some of the leading dry goods and shoe jobbers in the city are behind the proceedings.
They say severe measures must be taken to prevent fraud on the part of small merchants, who often purchase large stocks of goods just prior to going into bankruptcy. It is believed Miss criminal action in the present case will deter others from attempting to defraud the wholesalers of the city, whose liberal credits make possible the volume of business carried on in the suburban districts.

A Question for You to Answer

Do you want to live on the West Adams Hill, on a winding hundred-foot drive, lighted by numerous stone and wrought iron electroliters, with petrolithic pavement, cement sidewalks, seven feet wide, twenty-three feet for trees and lawns between curb and property line;

Where later you can take a subway car and go to the business center in seven minutes;

Where you have choice of two car lines;

Where you can drive or motor from the business center without leaving asphalt pavement;

Where lots are so large that buildings will not obstruct the superb view;

Where you can get a building site 60x140 ft. for $1800, and where the largest corners cost, now, less than $8000;

Where in three or four years frontage will be worth $100 to $150 per foot;

Where nearby property now brings the latter prices;

Where your home will be situated in a spacious private park?

If you want these and other decided advantages, telephone us for automobile appointment to see Victoria Park.

SUPERB. VICTORIA PARK TO BE EXCLUSIVE.

DESIRABLE RESIDENCE TRACT
FOR DESIRABLE PEOPLE.

Substantial Citizens Have Laid Out Attractive Subdivision to Have Streets One Hundred Feet Wide and Lighted With Electroliters Twelve
and Fourteen Feet High.

On the most desirable portion of the West Adams Heights thirty-nine substantial citizens have united to create an exclusive residence park.
To this end they have laid out curved drives one hundred feet in width, to have petrolithic paved roadways and seven-foot cement walks. The residence sites are sixty to 110 feet wide,
and of good depth, ranging to over 200 feet. All houses will be sixty feet from the roadways, and each house

will take its number from its lot number. For example, the house on lot 6 will be No. 6 Victoria Park. The entire park will be lighted by handsome stone and wrought-iron electroliters,
twelve to fourteen feet high,
with five large electric lights on each.
Hundreds of trees will be planted,
and the general effect will be that of a spacious, handsome private residence
park, exclusively for high-class homes.
The building restrictions range from $4000 up.

Victoria Park has especially good car service. At present the West Sixteenth-street line along the south
edge of the Park, and the West Pico
line along the north margin; later,
the subway, from sixty-three yards
to one and one-half blocks away, will enable business men residing in Victoria Park to take luncheon at home.
The Park is on a high hill, with perfect drainage. The view is superb
in all directions. The ocean is visible, and the mountains, from the sea to Old Baldy, present an inspiring and ever-changing panorama.

look into the present freight congestion, both east and west-bound on the central overland route, particularly on what is known as the Salt Lake di-

When Scott came out some time ago
his reports of various conditions were said to have counted materially in determining some of the general official changes which resulted after Krut-

looked into affairs out this way.

The unicorn, he concludes, was the European bison and the behemoth was the hippopotamus. That eagle which "stretch up her nest" was the griffon vulture. The chameleon was the monitor lizard; the true chameleon figured as the mole. Mr. Bolton maintains that the apes of Solomon's islands were the bonnet monkeys of Ceylon "or of the land of Ophir."

RAVENSCROFT WRATHY.

Long Beach Merchant Angry at Bankruptcy Proceedings Brought Against Him.

In a petition for involuntary bankruptcy, filed in the United States District Court, yesterday, the creditors of H. G. Ravenscroft, a Long Beach merchant, aver he transferred his stock to his father-in-law, J. V. Bartow, with intent to defraud his creditors. It is set forth that Ravenscroft disposed of his business to Bartow for a stated price of $6500, although knowing at the time that he was insolvent.

The creditors say they have failed to secure a settlement from either the merchant or his father-in-law, and therefore petition the court to declare Ravenscroft bankrupt. The creditors allege the petition claim debts aggregating over $500, but it is alleged that he owes more than $1000.

Among the local creditors are R. L.
Craig & Co., Pacific Hardware Company and the H. L. Tibbets Paint Company.

"Any allegation of a fraudulent transfer of property by me, is a lie,"
said Ravenscroft last night. "I owe money in Los Angeles, and have never denied it, but my creditors got excited and swooped down here with an attachment. Everything was settled,
however, and this suit is a surprise to me. I am absolutely solvent and able to pay every obligation."

basement of the Central building,

Sixth and South Main streets, yesterday afternoon, and despite his terrible experience, may recover.

Day was engaged as a helper on the eighth floor of the building. Shortly after noon he attempted to swing by a rope from the eighth to the second floor of the building. He had hardly reached the sixth landing when his hold slipped and he fell to the basement of the building. The rope caught about his left leg, breaking it at the knee, but checked Day's fall and probably saved his life. In addition to the breaking of his leg, Day was badly bruised.

DRUGGIST RECOMMENDS

Chas. H. Fletcher Co., New York

Dear Sirs:—It is a pleasure to say to you that we have sold the GENUINE Fletcher's Castoria for twenty years, and it has given entire satisfaction to all our customers; we have never had one complaint during this time, and the daily increasing demand for your Castoria proves to us that the discriminating public recognizes the intrinsic merits of your remedy.

Very respectfully

Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher,

Dear Sir:—It has been years since we have bought Castoria in less than gross quantities and today we unhesitatingly say it is the largest seller of its class on our shelves. We therefore must admit it a meritorious remedy for without merit the sale would surely terminate as does all spurious nostrums in spite of a lavish expenditure in advertising.

Gentlemen:—The sale of Castoria in Los Angeles is increasing faster, in proportion than any other proprietary article we handle.
